

THE AMERICAN COLLEGE OF EPIDEMIOLOGY is an organization of epidemiologists that serves the interests of the profession through advocating for issues pertinent to epidemiology, a credential-based admission and promotion process, sponsorship of scientific meetings, publications and educational activities, and recognizing outstanding contributions to the field.

ASSOCIATE MEMBERSHIP: OPEN TO STUDENTS AND POSTDOCS

ACE was formally organized in 1979 to develop criteria for professional recognition of epidemiologists and to address their professional concerns. Since then, the College has benefited from the leadership of the top epidemiologists in the world.

Students and postdoctoral trainees are invited to apply for membership as Associate Members. Benefits include:

- Opportunity to contribute to the College's newest standing committee – the Associate Member Committee!
- Receive employment announcements specifically for students and junior epidemiologists
- Leadership opportunities, including Chair of the Associate Member Committee, which serves on the ACE Board of Directors
- The chance for travel and accommodations funding to the ACE Annual Meeting
- Reduced registration at the ACE Annual Meeting
- Participate in bimonthly Associate Membership conference calls and Skype meetings
- Regular opportunities to network with other Associate Members
- Interact with some of the world's leading epidemiologists through participation on other committees
- Reduced rate on the College's official journal, Annals of Epidemiology
- Stay up-to-date on ACE activities and the field of epidemiology via the quarterly ACE newsletter

ADMISSIONS

Applications are reviewed by the Admissions Committee on a quarterly basis and are voted on by the Board of Directors. A decision on admission is reached through a review of credentials. We invite you to apply for membership. Please see website for application.

Membership dues shall not be sent until after acceptance into the College. The cost of annual Associate Membership status is $20 per year. An optional subscription to Annals of Epidemiology (12 issues) in print requires an additional $65.
