

Dr. Weed focuses on problems at the interface of science, law, commerce, and public health. In this roundtable he will lead a discussion on the problem of conflicts of interest that face professional epidemiologists. Of special concern will be to discuss how those conflicts (or perceptions of conflicts) can affect the interpretation of scientific evidence and the integrity of our profession.